Saturday, 5 April 2014, Stanford, CA...The Stanford track program honored John Lilygren for the years of support he has given to Stanford meets.

Here is Chris Miltenberg, Stanford's head coach, said on the occasion:

John Lilygren, on behalf of the Stanford track and field program and Stanford track and field fans and your fellow officials: Good work! And thank you.

Stanford University would like to acknowledge John Lilygren for the years of support he has given to the Stanford Track and Field program. John has worked as a vertical jumps official, specializing in the pole vault.

John Lilygren was born some years ago in Los Angeles, the oldest of three siblings. John got involved with track and field when he wanted to get into shape for football. John switched to track exclusively after getting knocked flat by a 225 pound lineman during football practice. He found his event as a distance runner...the two mile in high school and the three and six mile route in college. His proudest athletic achievement came in 1981 when he qualified for and ran in the Boston Marathon.

John graduated from U.C. Davis with a BS in Electrical Engineering. Professionally, John is currently a photolithography engineer for Philips Lumileds in San Jose. "I work in a semiconductor fabrication area developing new processes for making LED lights."

In September of 2013 John married Lizbeth Seckler. As John said, "I knew she was the woman for me when she said she was a track fan and had attended the Payton Jordan track meet every year."

John became an official in 1981 when he answered an ad in the San Francisco Chronicle. "Since I was a distance runner I decided to be a timer. I did not like being confined to the finish line for the whole meet. I wanted an event that would allow me to finish before the distance races at the end of the meet. I decided to try field events. First I tried horizontal jumps. That was all right but eventually I tried Vertical Jumps and found that I enjoyed working the Pole Vault and running 5 Alive."

John was first certified as a USATF official in 1997 and became a Master Level Vertical Jumps official in 2009. Along the way he has worked NCAA Division 1 and Division 2 national championships as well as the Indoor and Outdoor USATF national meets. John was selected to work the Vertical Jumps in the 2014 World Junior T&F Meet in Eugene in July.

John has been recognized nationally in 2009 by USA Track & Field for his work in the vertical jumps and in 2012 by the Pacific Association when he received the Horace Crow Award, Special Recognition Of An Outstanding Field Event Official. We are pleased to recognize John Lilygren for his years of dedicated service to the Stanford Track & Field Program.

U.C. Berkeley's track team remembered Dick Connors for his years of work at their meets as the entire Connors clan looked on.

My, don't they grow up fast? Juliana Jolee Trafton, 9 lb 5oz, 21in was born to Pacific Association athlete Stephanie Brown-Trafton (Olympic discus gold medalist) and her husband Jerry. It does seem that she is destined to be known as JJ.

Ahhhhh...

JJ has her first weight work-out

Art and Becky Klein, formerly of the Pacific Association, are now working meets and giving racewalk clinics Northern Virginia. The Slurpees are a reward to themselves after their latest meet.

While in Sacramento, Steve Brown spent most of his time as a result runner. He used his Segway to travel back and forth and earned Hume's recognition as RESULT RUNNER PAR EXCELLENCE.

Missing From The Track

Emeritus PA official Jeanne Sanders passed away February 6, in Sacramento, taken by the cancer she had battled for many years.

Jeanne was first certified in 1999 and became a Master official in 2009, specializing in the horizontal jumps.

Born in South Carolina, Jeanne came to California as a divorced adult and built a career as a program analyst for the state government. She came to officiating from being a long-distance running competitor, and loved to tell the story about how she became a field official.

She was umpiring at a Stanford Invitational one year, she would say, assigned to the curve near the shot-put venue. Having watched the male shot putters for a while, she thought "I could be over there, with them!" And so she eventually was, working many different field events at meets all over northern California, including the NCAA's in Sacramento.

As another master official posted on Facebook, "Jeanne was a neat person, easy to work with, lots of fun. She will be missed."

Jeanne is survived by a daughter, a son, and two grandchildren. She was 69.

The Pacific Association hosted the 2014 National Paralympic T&F Meet

PAUSATF Officials Shine at US Paralympics
from George Rhemet

For the first time, the US National Paralympics Track and Field Championship came to the west coast in late June. For most of our PAUSATF officials, this would be the first time that they would be officiating athletes with disabilities. Some of the challenges were adaptations and the different classifications of disabilities.

Charlie Sheppard held training sessions on Para-athletes prior to this event. Officials were able to earn a certificate to officiate these athletes by taking an online test. Charlie also provided great assistance by recommending experienced Aouthern California officials to come up to help officiate. In addition, the US Olympic Committee (USOC) would send in several of their top officials to help out. As coordinator of officials, Sonny Maynard was able to get on average 25 officials per day to officiate. Given the high caliber of this meet, there were usually enough volunteers to help assist the officials.

By the end of the meet, several world records were set. The meet was also blessed to have some of the top para-athletes like Tatiana McFadden, who has won the wheelchair division of such marathons as Boston, London, and Chicago, compete. Cathy Sellers of the USOC praised the PAUSATF officials on their professionalism and commented that she would not have ever known that these officials were working their first para games.

As meet director, I am grateful for you PAUSATF officials for your efforts and your willingness to adapt to the quirks of the Paralympics. I felt confident in your abilities. And I appreciated how well you worked with officials from outside of our association. Hopefully, we can do this again in 2016.

Sincerely,
George Rehmet

Long time Para official Charlie Sheppard and George Rehmet, first time meet director, are all smiles at the 2014 Paralympic Meet. The meet must have been over.

Charlie Sheppard carefully adjusts the chalk which makes up the jump board for the T9 athletes.

Jim Hume reports the view from the press box.

You wouldn't think that a blind athlete would be long jumping, but one of the more amazing athletes was Elexis Gillette who long jumped 21-00. We have lots of meets where none of the male long jumpers jump 21 feet.

A blind long jumper has a guide who places the athlete on the long jump runway and points him in the right direction. The guide then stands on the jump board and claps so that the blind jumper knows which direction to go. The guide steps off the runway just as the athlete approaches. The only accommodation the jumper received was a "jump board" that was extended to one meter wide by putting chalk on the runway. The jump is measured from the footprint in the chalk to the mark in the sand. Elexis achieves most of his distance based on a wonderful extension of his legs in front of him. Do you remember seeing Bob Beamon's world record in the Mexico City Olympics? Elexis has the best extension of anyone I seen since Beamon.

Thanks to Our Southern California Brethren.

Working a Paralympic meet when you have no experience is a challenge. Thanks to SoCal Officials Chair David Smith and his compatriots Susan Harris, Faith Hogan, Anthony Young and Peter Enz. They had the experience we needed in sure everyone competed safely.

Our SoCal guests gave a clinic on the use of the Leica Disto E7500i laser measuring device. Mike Bower, John Coie, Faith Hogan, Bill Bartell and Mike Aro cheerfully posed for their Ben There/ Done That picture.

Sean Laughlin is the proud owner of a Leica measuring device. If you want some hands on experience just send me an e-mail to (JimHume@Comcast.net).

Don't Cal starters Deno Certa and Scott Chisam look spiffy and all dressed up?

Speaking of Scott, he and wife Rebecca are all smiles over the birth of their first grandchild... Grady Michael Chisam, father Matt Chisam, mother Katie McCanless Chisam a former U.C. Davis runner.

"Officiating LDR races is not a venture into some exotic new realm. LDR officials do the same things as track and field's starters, timers and umpires. The difference is scale. I'm sure Mark can find you a mentor. Give it a try...you might find you like it. One thing sure; doesn't last as long as most track meets. See all those meets with zero officials...they need your help," said Hume.

The Pacific Association had lots of officials in some very major meets this summer.

The following is a list of officials who were selected to officiate at the Pacific Association's three meets where the officials were selected rather than volunteered. I know many of you accepted your selection for I remember seeing you in Sacramento. I am aware that not all of you served in the event for which you were selected, but, for fear of leaving someone out, I'm not going to go there.

I have included in our list three visitors I am proud to claim:

- Robert "Bob" Hooper/Arizona...but he lived and worked most of the track season within the Pacific;
- Peter Urda/Kentucky...who is out here for the paying kind of work and officiated most of the track season within the Pacific;
- Monica Joannes...who began her officiating career in the Pacific and then moved for a paying kind of job.

Some Days You Just Can't Get Away With Anything!

At the National Juniors, as is always the case in the clerking area under the stands at Oregon, there is a candy jar that we officials will periodically access. While they were clerking the girl's 3000 meters, Mary Cain spotted me dipping into the jar. I good naturedly motioned to her that she couldn't have any, that she had a race to run. When the race concluded, with hardly a loss of breath she said and the second place girl just then coming off the bend, "Whew. That was a good workout." Then she spotted me and asked, "Can I have some chocolate now?" I responded, "For heaven's sake, what is it you want?" "Do you have any Twix?" she asked; so I headed into the clerking area under the stands. I discovered that, since it was the last race of the day, the clerk had taken his candy jar with him. However, with a little searching, I was able to locate one of the wrapped peanut butter cookies we had had with our box lunches that day. I took it to her at the awards stand and we both vowed not to tell Salazar, her coach – who at that very moment was calling with her post-meet workout.

Jump ahead two weeks to the World Junior Championships: I did not say anything to Mary prior to the race in order not to interfere with her focus. However, following her 3000 meter race, she took a victory lap with the other American girl in the race holding the American flag between them. As they were within a couple of meters of finishing, I stopped them both and stealthily slipped into her free hand a small Twix I had purloined from the candy jar. She beamed, thanked me, and trotted off shouting for all to hear, and completely blowing my cover, "I love you!!"
